Monochrome colours: different tints of one colour.

Analogue colours: a combination of 2 or more colours that are next to each other in the colour circle.

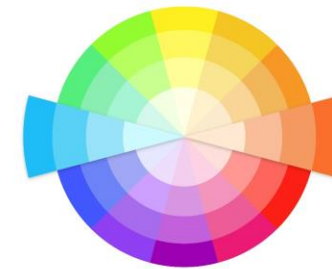

Complementary colours: colours that are opposite each other in the colour circle.

STEP 2

Choose one colour combination for your painting. Get or mix the colours you need for it.

Do you want to make monochrome colours? Then mix more and more black or white with your basic colour. This way you will get different tints of one colour. This is what we call monochrome colours.
