WHAT BELONGS TOGETHER?

1

Have a conversation about words that belong together, such as sun and moon, fork and knife, and police and thief. Ask the students why these words belong together. Give every student some clay.

2

The children each think of two words that are related to each other. Let the children depict the words in clay. Let the children depict the words in clay.

3

Put all the clay items on a table. Ask the students to search for the words that belong together. Why do the words belong together?
